TYPES OF HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

There are 500 officially recognized institutions of higher education in 165 towns and cities throughout Germany.

Universities in Germany are categorized into three groups :

- Technical University/ Technische Universität (TU)
- Universities of Applied Sciences/ Fachhochschule
- Colleges of Art, Film and Music

There are both Public and Private Universities in Germany.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS FOR BACHELOR'S & MASTER'S

Topics	Bachelor's	Master's
Academic Percentage	Minimum 60% & above in 12th	Above 60% is required in Bachelor's
Minimum IELTS score	Overall 6.5 with no band less than 6	Overall 6.5 with no band less than 6 or Minimum TOEFL score – 87.
German Language	B2 Level Proficiency	German Language may not always be a criterion for admission but it is better to achieve a basic level of German language A1 or A2 as more and more universities are expecting at least A1 level proficiency.
GRE Scores	-	GRE is needed for good and high ranked Universities – 310+ is considered as a good score. GRE is a mandatory requirement for some Automobile and Mechanical courses by high ranked Universities. There are few universities who give a waiver for GRE.
Application	12 years of education is required for entry in a Bachelor's program in Germany. Some universities need 13 years of education.	There is no concept of applying without IELTS or without final year marksheets in most of the universities. It is recommended to apply once the student is ready with all the documents including IELTS score card and Provisional Degree Certificate.
Duration	3 years.	1-2 years

Note: It is noted that candidates with German language skills have better chance of getting admission to German universities than candidates with no German language skills

APS & Test As

What is the APS certificate in Germany?

The APS is a joint institution of the German Embassy's cultural department and the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD). The APS checks the authenticity of educational biographies and the corresponding educational certificates, and issues certificates if the result is positive. Getting a APS Certificate is a paid process and APS will be applicable for both UG and PG Students.

What is the TestAS Exam?

International students who wish to pursue Bachelors in German-based universities can apply for the TestAS examination. It is a central standardized scholastic aptitude test that measures intellectual and cognitive abilities for higher studies. German Academic Exchange Service conducts this examination. The test can be taken in German, English, and in certain cases in Arabic languages. It comprises of three major parts which include the onscreen language test, the core test, and subject-specific test modules.

Note: APS Certificate & TestAS is Mandatory For German Student Visa
